MAKING THE HOME ATTRACTIVE FOR THE BOYS, PAYS.

If you are satisfied with the old style furnishings very likely your boys are not. The contrast between new and old is very great in plumbing fixtures. The new is beautiful, sanitary, inviting.

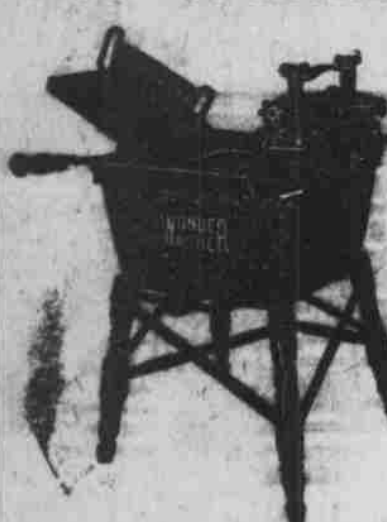

But you will see this too by merely glancing through our free booklets "Standard", "Belle", "Lavatories", "Closets". May we send them?

MODERN KITCHEN PLUMBING

It is easy to work in a kitchen where everything is bright, convenient, and easy to clean. The first and biggest help to hygienic surroundings is a spotless porcelain or enamel sink with quick running, non-splashing faucets.

Porcelain or enameled sinks are easily kept clean and free from vermin, no crevices to catch dirt and breed germs. You want your kitchen work to come up to the highest notch, food wholesome, got ready quickly, cleanliness everywhere, and easy to keep things clean.

Let us advise you how to make your kitchen modern, sanitary and convenient.

BEAUTIFUL LIFE GONE OUT

sweetest balm—that has been plucked from 'mongst the briars and thorns on 'way's byways and transported to glow again with iridescent, glorious beauty in the "Eternal Garden."
It is of such flowers as these that shall be woven in the crown that graces the head of our departed.
It needs not to be watered by tears of earthly friends—secure and safe it shall bloom and blossom, shedding its abundant fragrance of love over there under the tender care of "the boys" that were but waiting at the Garden Gate.

MY NEIGHBOR.

When the Creator, Divine,
Wrought this neighbor of mine,
To give her angelic beauty,
Of faith and life and duty;
He seized a sunbeam's ray
Of an early morn in May
And mixed it with the clay.
Nor e'en then his hand did stay;
For forbearance as a virtue,
Always steadfast and true,
From a lily was moulded,
As it in the valley unfolded.
Kissed by a dew-drop from Heaven.
All this he then didst weave
With love divinely strong—
Rhythmic as a sacred song—
That he'd hastened to secure
From a morning zephyr pure.
Then the Creator didst waive
The want of life, and it gave
To us this sweet, womanly queen—
Queenly of purpose, thought and mien.

And thus was chisled and wrought,
From things divine, and common clay
My neighbor just over the way.
Many days of life's sunshine
Blessed this woman, divine;
But ere of sorrow and flooding rain,
With sorrow, grief and pain,
Has been her sad and lowly lot,
With all she was brave—fate's red not;
And her sweet, saintly face
And queenly woman's grace—
The heart was wrenched
And grief's fires unquenched—
Bespoke of a hope most serene
And a trust both firm and keen.
An echo of hope-inspiring balm
She sheds her life and love,
Like cooling showers on a summer's day.

Along life's rough and stony way—
An echo of hope-inspiring balm
As soothing as the sweetest psalm.
H. S. F.

MARGARET A. CARTER.

Another name, familiar to the people of Fulton county, years ago, is added to the list of the departed. A message came on Monday last announcing the death of Mrs. M. A. Fallas, late of Denver, Colorado.
Margaret A. Carter was born in Medina County, Ohio, and came with her family to Ottokree in the fall of 1853, where her brother J. W. Carter had previously established a newspaper, The Fulton County Union, The family's coming to Ottokree was intended as a visit—they expected to return to Medina in the Spring, but the charm of the new country and the cordial welcome given them by the pioneers induced them to stay. Mrs. Carter sold the farm in Eastern Ohio and Ottokree became the home and the printing office the business plant of the family, furnishing employment for the younger brothers, Chas. B. Julius D. and the youngest sister Margaret A. (when out of school) who became competent help in all departments of the office from type setting to an important place in the sanctum. Later she was a successful school teacher and a proficient in music. In 1870 she was united in marriage to Hon. S. S. Fallas of Cadillac, Michigan, which was their home during the fourteen years he served in that district as judge. They moved to Chicago 1890 where success in his profession and good health of the family brought happiness to all, until seven years ago this month Mr. Fallas went to the office in the morning usual good health, returning in the evening on the elevated he was stricken with apoplexy and died at noon the next day. He was an idol to his husband and father, his sudden death was a shock from which Mrs. Fallas never recovered. She has been in failing health since; she spent one year, 1913, in Southern California, hoping to regain health and strength, but prompting to deeds of love and kindness, continuing to fail. She has since been
